Cooley’s Anemia Foundation
Support for Parents of Newly Adopted Children with Thalassemia

The Cooley’s Anemia Foundation (CAF) will award $1,000 to parents of newly-adopted children with significant forms of thalassemia in recognition of their willingness to provide a new home to these important members of the thalassemia community. (A significant form of thalassemia would include thalassemia major, thalassemia intermedia, e beta thalassemia, hemoglobin H disease or hemoglobin H constant spring.) This will apply to children adopted on or after July 1, 2018.

Support will be dependent upon availability of funding. In the event that the number of applicants exceeds the amount of funding available, the Foundation reserves the right to make adjustments as necessary in the number of awards given and/or the level of funding for each applicant.

Requirements:

♦ Adopted child must be diagnosed with one of the following forms of thalassemia: thalassemia major, thalassemia intermedia, e beta thalassemia, hemoglobin H disease, or hemoglobin H constant spring. Parents must provide proof of diagnosis from a qualified medical expert.

♦ Adopted child must be registered with the Cooley’s Anemia Foundation. (If you are unsure if you are registered, please contact CAF at Eileen.s@thalassemia.org).

♦ The adopting parent(s) must be a citizen of the United States.

♦ The adopting parent(s) must provide proof of completed adoption of the child in question and that the adoption occurred on or after July 1, 2018. A copy of a certificate of citizenship or of an adoption certificate for a child adopted from outside the U.S. or of an adoption certificate for a child adopted from within the United States are examples of acceptable proof.
